Washington Notes

U. S. MAPPED

After 150 years of hard work, the U. S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey, has mapped adequately less than one-third of the nation.

CROP SUPPORTS

Speaking before the Senate Agriculture Committee recently, Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, made the suggestion that mandatory Federal farm price supports be killed once surplus production and other agricultural problems are solved. Mr. Benson cited recent Department of Agriculture reports to back up his contention that high price-supports and Federal controls had set the stage for accumulation of surpluses.

ELECTRONIC "BRAIN"

The Army has announced that it has added an electronic brain to a radar device to help locate faster the source of enemy mortar fire. With new equipment, the operator notes the "blip" registered on the screen by a shell, then centers hairlines on the blips, presses a button and the electronic computer gives an instant reading.

LANGUAGE STUDY

Only about half the nation's 1,709 colleges and universities offer French, German and Spanish, and only about one-eighth offer Italian language studies. High school enrollments in French, German, Spanish and Italian reached a 10 per cent of total high - school enrollment in 1915, declined to about 14 per cent in 1948 and have remained about the same since then.

DWELLING UNITS

A total of 1,120,000 dwelling units were put under construction in 1956, according to the Labor Department, which points out that this was the eighth straight year in which housing starts had passed the million mark. However, the 1956 home building rate was down 16 per cent from 1955 and 8 per cent from 1954. With allowance for population growth, the 1956 home-building rate was the lowest since the years right after World War II.

FARM PRICES, COSTS UP

The Agriculture Department has reported that farm product prices increased 0.4 per cent during the month ended Jan. 15. This puts them at 238 per cent of the 1910-14 base average, compared with 226 per cent at the same time a year ago. However, prices paid for goods and services by farmers increased 0.66 per cent over mid-December to set a new high.

MORE DOLLARS

The United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing will be making more dollars soon, through the use of new printing equipment recently ordered. The presses will be built by Thomas De La Rue & Co., Ltd., of England, which submitted the only bid for the new equipment. The eight rotary, sheet-fed presses will utilize dry paper instead of the usual eighteen bills on a sheet. It will also do this two and a half times faster than the old prices.

SYNTHETIC FIBERS

The production of man - made fibers in the United States last year declined 4 per cent from the record 1955 level. Production totaled 1,644,700,000 pounds compared with 1,715,800,000 pounds a year earlier. The decline in production of rayon and acetate was partially offset by increased output of textile glass fiber and non-cellulosic fibers.

INSTALLMENT DUE

Consumer time payment debt rose by $328,000,000 in December to a record total of $31,552,000,000 at the end of 1956. This was about $2,500,000,000 higher than at the end of 1955. The December gain followed a slow-up in growth in October and November and came despite the fact that automobile debt showed a drop of $13,000,000 and repair and modernization loans were down $4,000,000. The rise was attributed to a $387,000,000 gain in debt for consumer goods and $168,000,000 in personal loans.

He fell about five floors before managing to get his arms and legs around the elevator cable, which checked his fall but didn't stop him. While the friction burned his hands he managed to stop his fall, open the door with his feet, and step out of the shaft.

Tentative Plans Outlined For May Event

Fire Engine Went to Work In a Hurry

The new Appomattox County Fire Engine got its first work-out last Friday night, and helped prevent a costly fire at Spout Spring. An outbuilding very close to the residence of W. H. Robertson burned, but prompt work by local volunteer firemen using the new county engine kept the loss to that one building, and saved valuable property.

The building that burned was a former chicken house, which back in 1936 had been converted by the brothers, Shearer and David Robertson for the establishment of a photo business which grew into the present "Fotoware" firm now owned by Shearer Robertson and located in Appomattox.

Local Classes Have Banquet

The Distributive Education Club and the Diversified Occupations Club issued invitations this week to their employers, Advisory Committee and some officials of the State Department of Education to attend an Employer - Employee Banquet to be held on March 7 at the Appomattox Hotel.

The purpose of this banquet is for the students in these two cooperative part-time training programs to entertain their employers and other guests and at the same time let the employers know more about the activities in the room and of the clubs.

Robert Pankey, President of the DO Club and John Paulette, President of the DE Club, are working with their respective clubs and Mrs. Joan Smith, sponsor, on the planning of the program and the menu is being planned. Troy Holland will preside at the banquet.

Members of the clubs hope that all of the guests who have been invited will make an effort to attend because this is one way that the students can show their appreciation for the training they have been receiving throughout the year under these two programs. If this banquet is well attended, the Employer - Employee Banquet will become an annual affair.

The club members have had several fund raising campaigns throughout the year in order to finance the banquet.

The above date is also the deadline for cancelling, amending or altering Acreage Reserve agreements already filed.

Social Security Office Reports Big Increase

The results of recent Social Security changes are now being felt in full force in the Lynchburg Social Security office, according to James W. Dinwiddie, district manager.

"Last week," he said, "we took care of more than 1,400 items of business. Those included personal claims interviews, visits to neighboring counties, issuance of new and duplicate Social Security cards, providing information, approving applications for payments, and making changes or adjustments in benefits already being paid."

This increase in office callers has caused a slow-down in the completion of initial benefit payments, Mr. Dinwiddie explained. He said many self-employed farmers are making applications for the first time and a sizable number of retired workers and widows neglect to bring needed "proofs" when they call to make applications for payments.

Persons Need Proofs

Generally speaking a retired person needs some proof of his age. So do wives of retired workers and widows age 62 or older. Also widows usually need to have their marriage records, and birth certificates are always needed for children under 18.

In addition, self-employed individuals must present a copy of their last years' income tax return—along with a recipt for payment of Social Security taxes.

Mr. Dinwiddie emphasized that the Social Security office is always glad to answer all inquiries about Old Age and Survivors Insurance. Persons desiring general information, though, might be better served if they defer their questions until a later time. "But under no circumstances," he added, "should retiring worker or the family of a deceased worker put off getting in touch with us."

This increased Social Security activity is nation-wide.. For this reason, all first-time benefit payments are being delayed somewhat. The district manager explained that persons who have already made their applications need not call back at the office unless they are asked to do so.

The self-employed farm people began participating in Social Security in 1955. Many of them have just now qualified for payments. Those who are already over 65 should make their applications before the end of April, 1957.

Retired women workers, wives of retired workers, and widows may now receive payments at age 62. These persons can make their applications anytime before next November — and still not lose any payments.

"Generally speaking," Mr. Dinwiddie said, "persons will be helping themselves if they bring proofs with them when they call, and do not make unnecessary follow-up inquiries."

PAMPLIN P.-T. A.

The P.-T. A. of the Pamplin Elementary School held its regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 19. The Boy Scouts gave a program.

The way things are shaping up, Appomattox may come with a successful participation in the widely-heralded Jamestown Festival Year observance in Virginia. With localities all over the Old Dominion going all-out to join in the 350th commemoration of the establishment of the First Permanent English Settlement at Jamestown in 1607, and incidently to seek a share in the visits of over three million extra tourists this year, Appomattox is now swinging into stride to tie in with a program of its own.

A recent meeting of the Appomattox County Jamestown Festival Committee, called by County Chairman Calvin Robinson, brought out outspoken enthusiasm. As a result, machinery has been put in motion for a number of local events.

The first local events of the 1957 Festival Year, were set up in outline at a meeting of the Appomattox Garden Club Monday night. A full agenda of suggestions was presented for consideration by Mrs. Frank F. Carr and other Club leaders.

Although all efforts will be made to assure adequate recognition of April 9 as a major anniversary date in Virginia, and build up early April visits to the site where America made peace in 1865, it now appears that the first major Appomattox participation in the Festival Year will come about on the week-end of May 5.

A tour of Southside Virginia homes is scheduled to begin in Halifax County in late April, and proceed to Charlotte and thence to Prince Edward. It is now proposed that this tour end at Appomattox on May 5, and that week-end be made the occasion for a special observance here, to attract as many visitors as possible.

Tentative plans call for a week-end Flower Show, with history as the principal theme of arrangements, etc. A religious service at the Old Court House on that Sunday, followed by a tea lunch, and a tour of outstanding homes in the immediate area. Also in the plan under consideration, would be an Art Exhibit in one of the buildings at the Old Court House.

Among the ladies making the leadership in these over-all plans are Mrs. R. E. Gregory, president of the Garden Club; Mrs. F. F. Carr, Mrs. William W. Burke, Mrs. C. T. Moses Jr., Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr., Mrs. Robert C. Hubbard and Miss Beulah Ferrell, Mrs. S. S. Shouse has been asked to study plans for the Art Exhibit.

Incident to all of the local planning is the concept that Appomattox people will use every opportunity to have visitors converge on this historic community on the week-end of May 5, and that every opportunity will be grasped during the entire Jamestown Festival Year to attract as many as possible of the millions of Virginia visitors to this sacred landmark of peace.

Garden Club Met Monday

The Appomattox Garden Club had its February meeting Monday, February 25, at 7:30 P. M. The meeting was held in the cafeteria of the Appomattox Elementary School, with the president, Mrs. Kenneth C. Gregory, presiding.

During the business meeting it was decided to cooperate with the committee in charge of the program to commemorate the Founding of Jamestown. Plans are tentative, and will be announced at a later date. It was decided to cooperate in whatever way possible with the town officials and the other organizations, and business and private property owners in the spring clean-up. We would like for Appomattox to be "Appomattox the Beautiful" to the many tourists who pass through and who, we hope, will stop by for a visit.

Mrs. S. S. Shouse was the speaker for the evening, and her subject was "Birds." She had illustrative materials, books, maps, charts, records and actual nests and bird feeders and houses. These helped to make the talk interesting and informative. The records of bird songs were excellent and the picture of the bird was displayed as his song was played.

The rhesbus for the artistic arrangements were:

1. Arrangement suitable for a child's room: Mies Laura Mottley, blue.

2. Small arrangement sutable for a guest bedroom, Miss Laura Mottley, red.
